Civic Duty Rice	Civic Duty Rice is a chapter of the national organization Civic Duty. Civic Duty's mission is to promote and increase youth civic engagement across a spectrum of activities, from increasing youth voter turnout and electoral activity to growing youth involvement in community service. Civic Duty Rice in particular strives to engage Rice students and Houston area youth in civic education and community outreach initiatives. We aim to teach young people the importance of civic engagement and to empower them to create change in their communities through increased service activity, political activism/efficacy, and voter participation. We will start out by producing a podcast that communicates current local and national events to the Rice community, analyzes the relevance of these events to Rice students, and suggests direct ways for Rice students to get more involved in the community. By offering a new medium for Rice students to become civically engaged, we hope to serve as a unique call-to-action on campus. We will expand beyond our podcast as well and directly interact with the surrounding community, by offering civic education enrichment in local schools and connecting Rice students with this opportunity.
